

Course Rotations for the M.A. in History

Students should meet with the M.A. History Program Coordinator to discuss electives and degree progress.

Every Fall Semester

HIST 5300 Historical Inquiry (Required Course)

Every Spring Semester

HIST 5380 Historiography and Historical Method (Required Course)

Every Even Year in the Fall Semester

HIST 5322 Topics: Early America

HIST 5340 Readings: Political Narratives

HIST 5340 Readings: The Second World War in Europe

Every Odd Year in the Spring Semester

HIST 5322 Topics: Revolutionary America

HIST 5342 Topics: Freedom and Authority

HIST 5360 Readings: US Foreign Policy

Every Odd Year in the Fall Semester

HIST 5325 Readings: US to 1877

HIST 5340 Readings: The Path to War, 1871-1914

HIST 5360 Readings: Revolutions

Every Even Year in the Spring Semester

HIST 5325 Readings: US from 1877

HIST 5340 Readings: The Great War

HIST 5342 Topics: Spies and Resistance

Every Summer

Usually, at least 3 electives that are not listed in the above course rotations.

Please note that for fall and spring semesters, non-required courses may be subject to change based on student interests, the need to expand the offering of courses, and other factors.

However, each fall and spring, there will be unique electives that are not repeated within at least a 2-year cycle.