Course Description

CRIJ3305 Criminology introduces students to various theories of crime causation, and provides an examination of classical, biological, psychological, and sociological perspectives on the cause of crime.

Expanded Course Description Throughout the semester we will learn why people commit crime, never commit crime, and stop committing crime. We will explore theories that focus on the individual, the community, society, government, and power. We will also discuss how some of these theories are used in practice today. Throughout the semester, you will be challenged with applying these theories to real-world examples.

6. can question the nature of crime and criminality.

Course Textbook

Akers, R.L., & Sellers, C.S. (2020). Criminological Theories: Introduction, Evaluation, and Application (8th ed.). New York: Oxford University Press.

Major Course Requirements

Chapter Review Quizzes (25%) The purpose of chapter review quizzes is to assess a student's basic understanding of the material in the textbook only.

Media Quizzes (35%) Media quizzes present the course information in a different manner. Students watch videos and listen to podcasts that relate to the course content and are quizzed on the material. Transcripts are available in the video controls. Transcripts for YouTube videos are available in YouTube.

Exams (Worth 40%) Exams test a student's understanding of information in the textbook, slides, videos, and discussions. Exams are multiple choice, open note/open book, and are not timed.

Late Policy

There is no need to contact me about late or missing assignments. Due dates for this course are generous. Assignments are posted at the beginning of the semester to allow students to work around their schedules. Media quizzes, chapter quizzes, and exams can be completed until the end of the semester without penalty.

Grading Criteria Rubric and Conversion

Accessing Grades

Students can view their grades in the Canvas Gradebook by going to “Grades” link on Canvas. Grades for module assignments are available immediately. Grades for written assignments are returned within 10 days of the due date or late submission.

Grading Rubric

A C grade is average, to earn an overall grade higher than a C you must consistently produce high quality and outstanding work. See individual assignments for more detailed rubrics.

- A, 90-100: Outstanding work and mastery of material.
- B, 80-89: High quality work and good understanding of the material.
- C, 70-79: Satisfactory work and basic understanding of the material.
- D, 60-69: Missing work and insufficient understanding of the material.
- F, <59: Missing work and no understanding of the material.

Student Attendance and Performance

A student is considered attending the course if they are completing assignments regularly. Though you can mostly work at your own pace, if you do not complete assignments regularly you may be marked as “not attending” which can affect your enrollment status and financial aid. Students are responsible for keeping up with the course outline. Canvas records student’s interactions with the platform which allows professors to see how often students access the course and view pages; how much time is spent on exams, exam questions, and when answers are changed; and whether videos are watched, for how long, and if they were skipped. I use this information for grade disputes. If you want to learn more about the information faculty can see, visit the Canvas FAQ on Course Analytics and Quiz Log

Whether you need help brainstorming ideas, organizing an essay, proofreading, understanding proper citation practices, or just want a quiet place to work, the UWC is here to help!

Students may arrange a one-to-one session with a trained and experienced writing tutor by making an appointment via WCOnline at [https://tamuct.mywconline.com/]. A Note about Sexual Violence at A&M-Central Texas

Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone discloses that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at TAMUCT, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Student Wellness and Counseling (254-501-5955) located on the second floor of Warrior Hall (207L).

Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don't agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter.

Don't be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the [Title IX webpage \[https://www.tamuct.edu/compliance/titleix.html\]](https://www.tamuct.edu/compliance/titleix.html).

Behavioral Intervention

Texas A&M University-Central Texas cares about the safety, health, and well-being of its students, faculty, staff, and community. If you are aware of individuals for whom you have a concern, please make a referral to the Behavioral Intervention Team. Referring your concern shows you care. You can complete the referral online

[https://cm.maxient.com/reportingform.php?TAMUCentralTexas&layout_id=2].

Anonymous referrals are accepted. Please see the Behavioral Intervention Team website for more information [<https://www.tamuct.edu/bit>]. If a person's behavior poses an imminent threat to you or another, contact 911 or A&M-Central Texas University Police at 254-501-5805.
